City Council Proposes Ordinance Restricting Parking at the Lake

by Sandra Barnes

At a city council work session on Tuesday, May 24, council members ironed out their proposals for controlling crowds at the Lake Park. The prime method, which council will introduce at its next meeting on June 6, will be an ordinance to restrict parking in the vicinity of the Lake Park.

The ordinance will call for restricted parking on week-ends and holidays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., on both sides of Crescent Road to St. Hugh's Church, and on Lastner Lane to Ivy Lane on one side and to Rosewood Drive on the other side. Parking will be permitted on both sides of Ridge Road, approximately sixty cars can be parked on Ridge Road and eighty-five cars can be accommodated in the Lake Park lot.

A "Park Full" sign has already been ordered and will be put out when all eighty-five spaces in the parking lot have been filled.

It is expected that council will approve the sale of bumper stickers to Greenbelt residents for a minimum cost, probably $1.00, and to non-residents for $5.00. Persons with stickers will be entitled to park in one of the 25 reserved spaces in the parking lot.

These parking restrictions are attempts by council to limit use of the Lake Park, particularly by non-residents, and control the parking on city streets, particularly where it is hazardous.

On the week-end of May 21 and 22, a total of 50 parking tickets and six verbal warnings were issued. Those receiving tickets were residents of the metropolitan area, with the largest number, seven, from Hyattsville. There were a few out-of-state residents ticketed (from Virginia, Arkansas, New York, Ohio) as well as two from University Square and three from Springhill Lake.

Since Crescent Road can accommodate about 160 cars, it is expected that these parking restrictions will result in the elimination of some 250 to 300 vehicles from the immediate Lake Park area. The situation that council will be monitoring is: will the drivers of these cars park on other streets in the vicinity of the park or will they go somewhere else outside of Greenbelt?

It is to be noted that since the ordinance will apply only on week-ends to 6 p.m., the July 4 crowd will not be affected unless some of these people arrive at the park earlier in the day.

from the Lake Park. City Manager, James Giese, also proposed eliminating all glass and non bio-degradable containers from the park. This provision may become part of the ordinance if it seems enforceable. Though all council members favored it, some had doubts that it could be controlled.

Closing the park earlier than 11 p.m. was discussed, but, this regulation will be held in abeyance so council can assess the impact of the ban on parking and alcohol. If these items control the crowds at the park as well as problems such as rowdiness and late-night drinking parties, council will be reluctant to further restrict use of the lake since many persons enjoy walking or jogging around the lake in the late evening hours.

There was no consensus on banning dogs from the Lake Park although parks supervisor, Dennis Doornekamp, spoke strongly in favor of such a proposal. He noted that many residents specifically take their dogs to the park to defecate and harass the ducks. This causes an impossible clean-up job for the city as well as prevents proper feeding of the ducks. Also, many residents have complained of dogs running loose in the park and frightening small children, bicyclists, and runners.

The ordinance is expected to be up for first reading on June 6 and for final passage on June 13. Any resident who might wish to comment on the ordinance should write to the council at the Municipal Building or attend the meetings.

Smith Reelected GHI President Other Officers Remain Same

by Barbara Likowski

Jim Smith was reelected president of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) at the board's first post election meeting on May 26. All of the board members were present. After certification of the election by Katherine Keene for GHI's Nominations and Elections Committee the new board promptly reelected the officers who served on the previous board: Donald Volk, vice-president, Norman Weyel, secretary, and James Foster, treasurer. Only two new board members sit on the nine member board: Margaret Hogen-sen and Wayne Williams.

After listening to a member from 43-Ridge complain about dumping on the side of his court, the board took up the general problem of dumping in unauthorized areas in some GHI courts. Some members, instead of putting trash in their yards and calling the city for a special trash pick up, carry their trash to some place in the court. It then becomes an eyesore and health and safety hazard. Director Virginia Moryadas suggested that GHI look into the possibility of reconstituting "dump" areas for GHI such as were used in the past. Trash in such designated areas was then periodically picked up by the city. In the meantime, Smith asked that a letter be sent to members concerning this problem, reminding them of present GHI rules against putting trash in court areas. Also notice will be put in the News Review.

Water Conservation

Smith also asked that members be reminded of the need for water conservation in the hopes of averting rationing later this summer. Weyel urged that this reminder be by mail.

Other problems confronting the board were the use of attics for purposes other than storage and procedures for membership complaints.

Manager Roy Breashears reported that when a unit was being examined for resale a woodworking shop was discovered in an adjoining attic. Since such uses of attic space are dangerous and also annoying to neighbors it was suggested that members be notified that attics were not to be used for such purposes.

At the request of director Mary Clarke, the board took a look at procedures for membership complaints. Clarke felt that members often did not feel that their problems were taken care of properly by management. Smith felt it was important that complaints be made to the manager and as many resolved as possible by management. However, members needed to know that they could carry their grievances to the board when necessary.

Committees

Breashears asked the board to set up an ad hoc GHI museum committee. This committee would purchase a GHI unit in which original furniture designed for the houses would be displayed. Early papers also would be on display. According to Breashears there may be federal grant money available for such a museum. Committee members might check with both the Greenbelt Library and the Library of Congress which has a Greenbelt room and the city Bicentennial Committee.

Also director Wayne Williams suggested the need for a legislative committee to keep up with legislation and to compose legislation GHI might like to propose. Former GHI president, Nat Shinderman, from the floor, reported that GHI did have such a committee at one time and there is material in the files about it.

The board agreed to set up both committees and asked that members be notified and volunteers requested.

Gardening Help

Assistant Manager Kenneth Kopstein reported to the board that members of the Garden Club were soliciting volunteers to assist elderly members who can't keep up their yards and who can't afford to pay for help with it.

Members wishing to volunteer for any new or established committee are asked to call the GHI office.

Breashears, Kopstein, and other board members will attend the Eastern Cooperative Housing Organization's annual meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa. June 3, 4, 5.

Concert at Mall on Sunday

The Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County, under the direction of John DelHomme, will present a concert on Sunday, June 5, at 2 p.m. at the Greenbelt Mall. This will be a part of the Greenbelt Day Celebration. DelHomme will direct the band in works by von Suppe, Moussorgsky, and many other composers. The band will again play "The Heart of Greenbelt March." The concert is free.

The Heart of Greenbelt March

The Heart of Greenbelt marches on in the American Parade. We live together, all as one, And praise the town that we have made.

The years ahead will come and go And take away our dearest friends. But in the heart and soul of Greenbelt They will live until the end.

"The Heart of Greenbelt March" composed by Seymour Levine 37-G Ridge, was the winning composition in the 1976 Labor Day Greenbelt March Contest.

CITY NOTES

Fill dirt was applied along the newly paved walk along Crescent Road and debris cleaned from city roadsides. Work was done on all refuse trucks, preparing them for Prince Georges County Health Department inspection.

The building maintenance supervisor spent all of last week at the pool getting the equipment ready for the May 28 opening.

Red and white begonias were planted on Southway in the bed by the bank, as well as around the War Memorial.

Last week's paper collection netted 7 tons, 1,320 lbs.

The asphalt walk-bike trail is completed up to the walk that crosses Crescent Road at St. Hugh's, with the exception of some dress-up work. Broken coping was removed from the swimming pool and cleaning and repairs are being made to equipment. Recycled glass was sorted by color and placed in metal containers. The glass is picked up every 2 to 2½ months. Residents are encouraged to bring their glass to the municipal warehouse.

The refuse crew was on schedule last week with the paper collection netting 7 tons, 1,220 lbs.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

All children who are under 18 years of age and who can swim 40 yards (2 widths of the Greenbelt pool) are invited to join the Greenbelt Swim Team. Until school gets out on June 16, practice will be held at the pool between 8 and 9 p.m.

7. An Ordinance to Amend Section 13-26, "Consumption or Possession of Alcoholic Beverages," of the Greenbelt City Code, in Order to Delete the Sentence Permitting Group Picnic Permit Holders to Consume Beer if Served in Connection with a Picnic Meal at Greenbelt Lake Park - First Reading

A Look into the Past: Greenbelt 40 Years Ago

Greenbelt's City Charter was granted by the Maryland State Legislature June 1, 1977. On the first anniversary of "Charter Day," this newspaper, then called the Greenbelt Co-operator, published a special edition commemorating the event. On this, the 40th anniversary of Charter Day, we would like to share with our readers some excerpts from that "Charter Day Edition" of June 1, 1938:

Over-Worked Tobacco Land by W. F. Baxter (Information Division F.S.A.)

... In a moment of relaxation, it is pleasant to think back upon the site of your town as it appeared in 1935. Unkept trees surrounded by knee-high weeds, the wind swirling dust across the area on which now stands the business center. The land was poor. Years of intensive tobacco planting had robbed it of its richness. There were no parks, no playgrounds and no lake. As I looked at the site, I wondered to myself. Can this really be the site of America's first planned village? Can a town actually be constructed and will that town be ready for occupancy within three or four years? ...

Greetings to Citizens By J. O. Walker Director, Resettlement Division, F.S.A.

... From the original concept of Greenbelt in 1935 until the completion of construction in 1937, great emphasis was laid on the beginning of America's town planning. But, as Pare Lorentz said in "The River", "You cannot plan for land unless you plan for people". In those early days of Greenbelt, the planners never lost the thought of the people who would eventually make up the town's population. A town may be built but it is never a complete town without its people ...

The Town Charter By Sherrod E. East (Town Councilman)

"Greenbelt's form of government, like other phases of our Town, was planned. It was desired that the municipal organization of the community conform with its other modern aspects.

Further, it was necessary to insure a town government which could and would fit the peculiar property situation (Federal ownership) and still insure traditional democratic prerogatives. The answer was an adapted city manager system ...

"When the officials of the Farm Security Administration had drawn what they considered to be an adequate charter, ... it was submitted to the Maryland State Legislature for approval and enactment.

"Certain features of our Charter are worthy of special note.

"First, as in other similar documents there is a complete and clear separation of legislative and executive functions.

"City managers working under such charters have earned a reputation for business-like methods in municipal administration.

"Second, full power of removal of the Town Manager is retained in the Town Council.

"Third, due again to the peculiar property situation, the bulk of the town funds is raised by petitioning the Farm Security Administration for funds, "in lieu of taxation." This particular procedure is provided for in Section 2 of Public Law No. 845, of the 74th Congress.

"Fourth, the Council elects from its own members the Mayor and the Mayor pro tem.

"Fifth, the jurisdiction and powers of the Council are clearly defined, in so far as the State Legislature, in an organic law, could define them; but the first Council has had the problem of adjustment of details between the Farm Security Administration and the municipal government."

Editor's Note: (On Dec. 30, 1952 Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation purchased the property and homes from the federal government. A charter amendment, effective June 1, 1949, changed the designation of Greenbelt from a town to a city. The Farm Security Administration was no longer petitioned for funds "in lieu of taxation," and the burden of taxes fell on the citizens.)

PATHFINDER (A National Weekly), December 4, 1937

"Theoretically, Greenbelt will be America's most democratic town. It will be a tiny economic democracy, because all its inhabitants come from the same wage class. It will be a political democracy on the order of the old New England town meeting. Though it is a city manager town — Maryland's first — the manager and councilmen will be subject to sharp public scrutiny ...

First Business of Council

By H. H. Maurer, Mayor Pro Tem
"This Council has functioned in a spirit of unity and understanding. The views of Administration officials or of council members themselves were given proper and fair consideration, whether those views were popular or not

"There have been arguments, criticism, differences — but these have been on a high level of friendly relations. No one has aimed for personal glory or individual gain, and the Council has worked for ordinances which would serve the common good. In Greenbelt the Council has pioneered a nonpartisan type of community government, the only Council-Manager form of government in Maryland.

"Working out a program in a planned community, the Council members and the Town Manager may constructively cooperate without "political" wire-pulling and keep faith with the citizens who live here ...

Council-Manager Form of Government

By Harry W. Nice

Governor of Maryland

"... Under your town charter. I note, incidentally, that you have established the first Council-Manager form of local government in Maryland. By its very nature it must be non-partisan, it must deal with each community problem objectively, and in this period of ever-increasing technology, where the advances of science are re-shaping the whole course of human events, I may say, that such non-partisan town government impresses me as a symbol of progress in town and city administration. I shall watch its development and regard its progress with sympathetic interest."

Manager's Discoveries

by Roy S. Braden
Community Manager

"... Greenbelt, of necessity, has had to reach its complete occupancy, under present plans, within the short space of nine or ten months. Strangers to each other, for the most part, friendships, neighbors and new associates had to be formed overnight. Every person had to adjust himself to new conditions and surroundings. Children can always do this, but here in Greenbelt, adults were face to face with the same problem ...

Watching the Town Parade

by Mayor Louis Bessemer

"Freed from painful drudgeries, from gloomy surroundings, from congested municipalities, what can we, what dare we, do with our cultural advantages? This is a paramount question.

"An answer to this question, during the coming years, will awaken interest among students, economists, sociologists, and scientists. Greenbelt will have an answer but nobody at this period can predetermine what the answer will be."

Town of "New Frontier" of Nationby Dr. W. W. Alexander,

"... You are pioneers in a new kind of life, just as truly as your forefathers who opened up this Continent. The development of your community is being watched with intense interest by the entire Nation; your success or failure may have a marked influence on the shape of American culture for many decades to come ..."

More on GHI Pension Plan

To the Editor:

To avoid confusion, may I comment on that part of your May 26 news account of the Greenbelt Homes membership meeting which deals with my comments on the GHI pension plan for employees.

The article incorrectly states that I "expressed dissatisfaction with aspects of the proposed formula" in the plan but correctly indicates my "annoyance with the insurance firm's attitude and delay."

At the meeting, I said I thought the GHI Finance Committee, after many meetings, recommended, and the GHI directors approved, what I believe to have been a very significant set of improvements in the plan formula but that unfortunately the committee had gotten so hung up on working on the formula that it had not done much about other parts of the plan which I feel need updating, revision, improvement. I said Finance Committee member Nat Shinderman did a great job in turning the committee around toward a good formula and that the committee, under its chairman, Jim Foster, did a good job but has more work on the pension plan to do.

I forbear here to list the various aspects of the plan, of previous GHI boards' inaction after they knew my years-ago critique of the plan was correct, and especially of the insurance carrier's poor service, delays and attitudes toward GHI which, I believe, merit the displeasure of the members generally, not just my own. But to the extent I'd been correctly briefed months ago on the pension plan formula adopted by the GHI committee and board, I believe it to be a big step forward.

GREENBELT DAY 1937-1977

The Greenbelt American Revolution Bicentennial Committee, in its consideration of City Bicentennial activities, noted that one way Greenbelt could recognize its American Heritage was to recognize the contribution of this city to the history of America, and that one way to look towards the future of the country was to consider the future of the city. The Committee further believed that this recognition of our city should not be just a one-time Bicentennial event, but be a continuing activity of the city. Therefore, the Committee recommended and the City Council approved and established, by resolution, the designation of the first Sunday in June as Greenbelt Day.

Sunday, June 5, 1977, has been officially designated as Greenbelt Day and will highlight a weekend of special events. This year marks the 40th year that Greenbelt has been in existence.

Greenbelt Day is a day to commemorate Greenbelt's past, celebrate Greenbelt's present, and look forward towards Greenbelt's future. It is a time for citizens to give thought to their community and how they can make it a better place in which to live.

Vehicle Titling Tax Increased to 5%

The Motor Vehicle Administration reminded Maryland motorists today that, as of June 1, the state's motor vehicle titling tax (excise tax) will increase from 4 per cent to 5 per cent. The titling tax is levied on all new or used vehicles titled for the first time in Maryland. Subsequent transfers of title, with a few exceptions permitted under Maryland law, are also subject to the tax.

In keeping with past practice, any title transaction submitted to the MVA by the close of business June 10 will be assessed the lower rate of 4 per cent, provided the vehicle was actually sold on or before May 31. Proof of the date of sale must be submitted with the title transaction to qualify for the lower rate.

Film on Environment

Brock Evans, director of the Washington office of the Sierra Club, will discuss "Meeting Today's Environmental Challenges" at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 7, at the Greenbelt library. A new Sierra Club motion film on Alaska will also be shown. The program is sponsored by the Sierra Club and is open to the public.

Scout Troop 746

During the weekend of June 3, 4, and 5, Troop 746 will be attending prep camp in Magnolia, West Virginia. This camping trip is the final preparation for summer camp, which will be held from June 26 to July 2, and is mandatory for all scouts and scout leaders who wish to attend summer camp. Exceptions to this rule can only be made through Scoutmaster Al Cousin or Assistant Scoutmaster Jim Hanna.

Only scouts and scout leaders registered with Troop 746 will be permitted to attend summer camp.

Sewage Hookup Approved

County Council approved sewage capacity to allow the City of Greenbelt to build a 100-unit elderly housing project that will be owned by the city and operated as a public facility. In approving capacity from the Lower Anacostia interim Sewage Treatment Plant, Council indicated its support for an allocation of 15,000 gallons daily but also authorized usage if it rose as high as 22,000 gallons per day. The County Executive also supported the facility, which will be built with state monies and in cooperation with the county's Housing Authority.

Credit Union Auto Sale

Members of Greenbelt Federal Credit Union (GFCU) through a special invitational sale are being offered an opportunity to buy a new car at a specified price over actual dealer cost. Billed as the "1977 Credit Union Member Private Sale," prices on new American automobiles will be at a maximum of $179 over actual factory invoice. Maximum price on the new 1977 Datsun cars will be $249 over actual factory invoice. It is anticipated that most of the vehicles will be sold for even less.

According to Joe Comproni, GFCU manager, some 2,000 automobiles will be displayed in the showrooms of participating dealers with invitations to members of area credit unions. Local GFCU members have an admissions letter describing the program. New members who join prior to June 3 will be provided with an invitation letter.

Sponsored by Invitational Promotions, Inc., a California-based firm, the program for credit unions only has proved successful. A further objective is to bring about an improved rapport between auto dealers and credit unions.

Construction Moving Forward On Greenbriar, Windsor Green

by Elaine Skolnik

Construction is moving ahead at a brisk pace at the Windsor Green Townhouse development located on the south of Greenbelt Road opposite the Eleanor Roosevelt senior high school. At the same time, work continues across the road at the Greenbriar development which will be offering rental apartments as well as condominium units.

Windsor Green

A total of 750 brick, individually owned (fee simple) homes is being built in four stages. Contractors Rozansky and Kay (owners of Glen Ora Development Corp.) expect that over 60 of the homes in the first section will be occupied during the summer months (about 80 have been sold). This section is located on 12.16 acres of land at the eastern end of the tract, between Mandan Road and the eastern edge of the property near Chelsea Woods.

According to Alan Kay, furnished models are now on display featuring townhouses with three and four bedrooms with and without basements and four-plexes (a cluster of four homes with each home on a corner — 2-story and rambler — without basements).

Section one will contain play areas. A recreation building, pool and tennis courts will be constructed after half the homes are built.

Greenbriar

Phase 3 and 4 of the Greenbriar development will house 463 rental units. Designated Glen Oaks, these sections are located on the western portion of the Smith-Ewing tract nearest the NASA facility. JAS Properties (Kay brothers) are handling rentals.

Phases 1 and 2 have already been turned over to the condominium buyers by the developers. Each section is governed by an elected board of directors. This process occurs after 50% of the units in each phase have been sold.

In the meantime, the Greenbriar sewage treatment plant remains on site, though idle since April 1976 when the development was hooked into the permanent system at the Western Branch Regional Treatment Plant. Reportedly, the temporary plant has been sold to a private developer for the Snowden Mill housing project in Montgomery County where the effluent will be sprayed onto land.

According to the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) the plant will be relocated after Greenbriar developers make modifications in the existing pumping station and back-up generator that will remain on site to serve the development.

The developers constructed the temporary plant and assumed the costs of operation which was under the control of the WSSC.

Western Branch

The plant was to remain in service until the Western Branch plant was expanded. A WSSC spokesperson observed that the facility's expansion from 5 million gallons a day (mgd) to 15 mgd is still "technically under construction" and a shake-down process is continuing. Construction problems, labor disputes, delays in receiving materials, new regulations, etc. have resulted in the project lagging years behind its scheduled completion date. However, the addition of chemical treatment several years ago increased the regional plant's capacity from 5 mgd to 8 mgd.

Following the completion of the first phase expansion to 15 mgd, WSSC will begin the second phase expansion of the Western Branch's capacity to 30 mgd. Located in southeastern Prince Georges County at the confluence of the Western Branch and Patuxent River, the new facility will produce a higher quality effluent than before. The plant serves an area stretching from the Largo-Glenn Dale areas to Upper Marlboro.

Leather Craft Demonstration

The Greenbelt CARES Leather Craft Shop is emerging from the CARES basement to the Center Mall for a demonstration on Saturday, June 4, from noon to 4 p.m. All are invited to come.

Police Blotter

Lookouts have been issued for a subject who held up High's Store in the Beltway Plaza Wednesday morning; he was armed with a .45 calibre weapon. Less than $90 was obtained.

The two subjects who were arrested in January and charged with the armed robbery of the Arco Gas Station were found guilty and received 10 year sentences. The subject who displayed a weapon during the robbery must serve his term in the House of Corrections; the other, who has been incarcerated since his arrest, was given a suspended sentence and placed on 2 years active probation.

Two suspects arrested in Dec. for breaking and entering a house on Hillside Road pled guilty and were each sentenced to one year in the Department of Corrections.

Two women reported they were sexually assaulted during the week. One, walking to her apartment in Springhill Lake, said she was grabbed by a male who had been jogging; she was released without harm. Another woman reported she was assaulted while she was working at High's at Beltway Plaza; she said she was grabbed by a subject who had requested to use the restroom in the store. When she screamed, he fled through the rear of the store. Lookouts have been issued.

Two subjects were apprehended by Prince Georges County Police after Greenbelt Police issued a lookout for them for larceny of plants from a local store. Warrants were obtained by the Store Manager and courtaction is pending.

Last Week

Several burglaries were reported recently in both the Springhill Lake and Greenbriar areas. In most instances entry was made via the sliding glass patio doors, which had either been left open or unlocked. Residents are reminded that they should be sure their doors are secure at night. Cash was the only item taken in these cases.

A 19 year old resident of Springhill Lake reported that she had been raped by a man whose children she had been babysitting. He was apprehended and charged with the offense.

A resident of Springhill Lake reported that as she walked home from the Beltway Plaza with her small daughter, she was accosted by a subject who threatened to harm her daughter if she didn't obey him. She broke free of the subject and stopped an officer. The subject ran off in the direction of Beltway Plaza; the area was searched with negative results. Lookouts have been issued. Neither the lady nor her child was injured.

After responding to a residence on Ridge Road for a reported attempted suicide, officers discovered an infant girl who had been seriously neglected. The baby was brought to headquarters and then turned over to a foster home. A hearing will be held by the Department of Juvenile Services to provide for the proper care of the child and to investigate the possibility of charges against the parents.

For further information, call the Recreation Dept., Monday through Friday, 9-5 p.m. 474-6878.

Functional Reading In County Schools

The Prince Georges County Public Schools will be emphasizing functional reading next fall. This is the skill of reading everyday material such as telephone books, supermarket ads, job applications and the like. New materials and guidelines for teachers are now being prepared.

In the fall of 1975, the Maryland Functional Reading Test became a part of the Maryland Accountability Program. When tested last fall, students showed gains in functional reading ability. Dr. Louise Waynant, Coordinating Director of Instruction for the school system describes Maryland as "a leader among the states in the systematic teaching of functional reading." She states that functional reading needs even greater emphasis and that the county is coordinating an approach to teaching these important skills.

Next fall's program will include specific units, curriculum materials and grade-by-grade guidelines for instruction.

ment of Juvenile Services to provide for the proper care of the child and to investigate the possibility of charges against the parents.

Lookouts have been issued for a subject that allegedly took a 2-year-old girl into a wooded area in Springhill Lake and removed her clothing. Parents are reminded to keep a close watch on their children when they are out of doors. Children should also be advised to beware of strangers and never to go anywhere with someone they do not know, no matter what story they might be told.

MOTHER'S AIDE COURSE

The Prince Georges County Chapter Red Cross is offering a Mother's Aide course for teens aged 12-16 at the community room in the shopping center of the Spring Hill Lake Apartments on June 20, 22, 27, and 29, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Steve Gendel described Greenbelt as a community unique in character and, in many ways, unchanged from its early days. The latter is exactly what Clara Brandt and Daniel Chappell love about the community. They were interviewed during Memorial Day Services conducted by the American Legion Post 136. Also televised was Mayor Gil Weidenfeld who paid tribute to those citizens of Greenbelt and our country who made the supreme sacrifice to keep our country and the world free and safe for all people.

Later Gendel talked to one of Greenbelt's "First Families", the Barcus family, of 2 Gardenway. Walsh Barcus spoke of his experiences while watching the construction of Greenbelt. He said, "I was here when President Roosevelt came out and put the first fish in

by Elaine Skolnik

Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School is expected to have an enrollment of 1,893 students next fall. This is an increase of approximately 518 over 1976/77 when the new school opened its doors for the first time. In the main, the inclusion of a senior class accounts for the increase.

Roosevelt is unique in that it is the only senior high school in Maryland that offers both a comprehensive and technology program. This year some 800 tenth and eleventh graders are in the comprehensive component and 575 ninth, tenth and eleventh graders in technology. Projected for next year are 943 comprehensive and 950 technology students (includes seniors).

The popularity of the technology program stimulated 1,824 junior high school students throughout the county to take the Differential Aptitude Test in April 1977. Scores from the test — verbal reasoning and numerical ability — were used as criteria for admission to the program.

Letters of acceptance were recently sent to 324 students who will be ninth graders next fall and 61 who will be entering tenth grade. Entering ninth graders were required to attain a minimum score of 85 percentile in each of the subtests; tenth graders needed a minimum of 90 percentile in each. This method of selection differed from that of last year, when students' scores in each test were added together and average (80% was the minimum average required to gain admission). Thus, a student scoring 95% in English and 65% in Math would have been eligible to attend the technology program.

School officials feel that the revised method of selection this year is in the best interests of all students. The technology program is oriented toward mathematics and science, and experience during the current year has revealed that some students with high abilities in the verbal area were at a disadvantage in the technology program and found it difficult to keep up in their math studies.

Roosevelt principal Ray Ogden opined that the revised criteria would be advantageous in that students who had the best chance of getting through the program would be admitted.

Ogden also pointed out that students from both the comprehensive and technology programs attend classes together in English, where there is grouping by ability. "Wherever possible," he said, "students are placed to maximize whatever their abilities happen to be." Mixing also occurs in some mathematics and science studies and in most elective and all foreign language classes (Roosevelt has 43% of its student body taking a foreign language — the highest number of any school in the county).

Ogden is hopeful that the arts and music program will be strengthened and expanded in the near future.

New Board of Directors At Partridgeberry School

On March 14, 1977, the first directors of The Partridgeberry School, Inc., Randy and Morss Lippincott, formally declared the school "firmly established" in accordance with the objectives they and two other founding families set for the school six years ago. At the same time, the Lippincotts declared their intention to resign from their position as directors, but to remain active members of the school and to offer their services as consultants on a continuing basis. Consequently, they explained, the bylaws required them to set in motion procedures for establishing a regular executive board of seven member-families, to govern the school from March 30, 1977 onward.

On March 30, the membership of the school elected the following board-members, four of whom became officers of the school through a subsequent election by the Board itself: Joyce Koelling, Director; Barbara Lowrey, Chairman; Gerry Gurtvitch, Secretary; Diane Beall, Treasurer; Jim Beall; Jan and Neil Davidson, Joyce Krieger, Alfred Lowrey; and Linda Lynch.

Conceived from the beginning as a liberal alternative to existing area elementary schools, Partridgeberry offers children an unusual combination of personal freedom, general academic instruction, based on activities and projects, and extensive professional guidance. In its first year, the school consisted of an unaccredited, but State-authorized, K-2 unit serving twelve children in one rented classroom. Today, the school enjoys full accreditation, K-6, and serves thirty-four children in six classrooms. Nevertheless, Partridgeberry remains the State's smallest accredited nonpublic elementary school. Partridgeberry is, however, the State's only cooperative elementary school. For information, contact Joyce Koelling, Director, at 474-0994. The school rigorously maintains a policy of non-discrimination by race, sex, economic class or religious affiliation.

most exciting race of the way winning in the last stride in a new CYO record time of 2:14.6. Chris Cantwell (14) had a perfect day winning the 440 (58.1), the 880 (2:11.8) and being gon two winning relays running a 53 second 440 in one of them. Dennis Cantwell (15) the top sprinter in the CYO easily won the 100 (10.1) and 220 (23.8) and was on the winning 440 relay. Ponnro Houl (15) the best distance runner on the team won the mile (5:14.3) and was second in the 880 and third in the high jump. Jim Folke (15) an exceptional relay runner has been on all three record breaking relays, was second in both the 100 and 220, and was on two winning relays. Jeff Hertel (13) won the long jump in 16' 9" and was on a relay team. Sharon Bradley (15) won the long jump, was second in the 440 and third in the 100 and on two relay teams. Industrial Arts Teacher Wins "Outstanding Award"

by Linda Orenstein

On April 7, in New Orleans, Louisiana, The American Industrial Arts Association recognized the outstanding performance of James H. Bruns in the field of Industrial Arts. Bruns, a teacher of Industrial Arts at Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School was honored as the Industrial Arts Teacher of the Year in the State of Maryland.

This award is given in recognition of exceptional performance as a classroom teacher and leadership in the promotion of improved programs in Industrial Arts. Bruns, a resident of Berwyn Heights, received his bachelor's degree at the University of Maryland in 1970 and is currently working on his masters degree. He is a member of professional organizations such as the Maryland State Teacher's Association, the Prince George's County Educators Association, the National Education Association, the American Council of Industrial Arts and others.

Bruns has taught on the secondary high school level for five years. He has shown extraordinary capabilities and enthusiastic involvement in many areas. In October of 1974 at the World Future Society Conference, Bruns presented a program on curriculum innovation in Industrial Arts. He has conducted six new-teacher workshops in his field for the Prince George's County Public school system. In addition he has edited developmental curricula for the schools.

James Bruns has extended his expertise into the area of philatelic education. He was responsible for writing four filmstrips; "The Post Rider"; "Almost an American"; "A Circle of Stars" and "Rebellion Becomes Revolution" produced by the United States Postal Service. Bruns has been instrumental in the conception of the Benjamin Franklin Stamp Club. This is a philatelic education program offered by the Postal Service on the elementary school level. He has written three teacher's guides for this specific program, published two articles on the subject and wrote and designed a booklet "For the Fun of It" for young stamp collectors. The U.S. Postal Service's Bicentennial Exhibit in Washington, D.C. has James Bruns to thank for having written all of the display material at the exhibit.

Student to Be Seated On P.G. School Board

by Douglas Knapp

On June 10, the Prince Georges Regional Association of Student Governments will elect a student member to the Prince Georges County School Board. The bill creating the student Board member position (H.B.1195), first presented three years ago by Delegate Leo Greene, was passed this spring by the Maryland General Assembly. The legislation was signed into law by Governor Mandel on May 17. Students first sought the introduction of House Bill 1195 a few years ago to provide direct student input to the School Board on educational affairs. The struggle for the bill's passage has kept all student governments in the County extremely busy.

The student who will be elected to the School Board will serve for one year as a non-voting member. The student will be permitted to participate in debates and present legislation. Also, the student can attend Executive Committee hearings, except those which involve special education placement, personnel and collective bargaining unless invited by the other Board members by a majority vote.

Prince Georges will be the first county in Maryland to have a student representative on its school board.

Textbook Return Policy

Students in the Prince Georges County Public Schools have an extra incentive to return their textbooks as the school year ends. A Board of Education policy adopted last summer provides that no student can be promoted to the next grade unless he or she has either returned all assigned textbooks and other materials in satisfactory condition, reimbursed the school for lost or damaged books, or made other arrangements with the principal.

Students will be given until the end of the school year (June 30) to make any payments due. Seniors will not be graduated with their classmates unless they have fulfilled their textbook obligations.

The policy also applies to such non-textbook items as films, tapes, and equipment. Replacement cost for all items is prorated, based on the number of years the item has been in use.
